Georgia Port Is Announced as Convention City by Imperial Potentate Garretson in Los Angeles.

SELECTION WILL MEAN MUCH TO ENTIRE SOUTH

Spirited Fight, Lasting for Weeks, Has Been Staged for Honor, Which Will Attract Thousands.

Los Angeles, Cal., December 10.—Imperial Potentate Ellis E. Garretson, of the Order of the Mystic Shrine, today announced that the annual convention of the Shriners will be held at Savannah, Ga., next year. Instead of Atlantic City, as previously intended. The convention date will be changed from June to May.

Honor for Savannah. News that Savannah has won the 1921 convention of Shriners comes as a pleasant surprise to cities throughout the state which have not been in direct connection with the efforts Georgia's seaport city has been making to secure the great event.

Savannah will be the second city of the Empire State to throw wide her gates to nobles of the Mystic Shrine, the convention of the year 1914 during the week of May 10, having been held in Atlantic City. Savannah has carried out a widespread campaign of publicity and in addition has raised $100,000 to assure proper entertainment and has agreed to throw open homes and hotels to the visiting nobles.

People all over the state will remember with pleasure the convention held in Atlanta a few years ago, when the city gave itself over to the entertainment of the most magnificent in point of elaborateness ever seen in the south; the contest of the city, like the parades were rich in color and music, attracted thousands. Bands from all parts of the country, from the band of the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton, to the Baby Temple at Macon, and the Millionaires' band of California, kept up almost continual concerts in the city, and social and public events alike were carried out with unqualified success.

While the Atlanta convention has been slightly exceeded in point of attendance of nobles, the meeting has never been equalled for elaborateness, smoothness of execution and general satisfaction of visiting nobles over the entertainment and hospitality of the city. On one day of the convention week it was estimated that 125,000 visitors were in Atlanta attracted by the session, and a very large attendance of Shriners was present, including delegations from 35 territories, an unusually large percentage.

Also Temple of Savannah, is one of the most progressive of the seaports of the state, there being three temples in Georgia. These are Yaarab, of Atlanta; Alex. of Savannah, and Al-Sabbah, of Macon. Alex has a membership of over 1,000 and is headed by Potentate Judge S. S. Freeman, of the civil division of the city court. It is twenty-four years old, and its territory embraces the cities of Augusta, which has been fighting for a temple for several years; Bainbridge, Waycross, Albany and Valdosta and practically all of the territory of southeast and south central Georgia.

Have You Started Your Christmas Dinner Yet?

Seems a funny question with Christmas over a week away, but there are so many things that must be gotten for Christmas dinners, we believe you will do well to commence buying what you can keep RIGHT NOW.

And those things you don't seem to be able to get anywhere, tell your grocer about them NOW. Don't wait until the last minute and make it impossible for him to get them for you.

BANKER E. B. LEWIS COMMITTS SUICIDE

Announced Intention to Call at Office and Shot Himself Through the Head.

Montezuma, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Hon. E. B. Lewis, one of the foremost and best known men in this section of Georgia, committed suicide in his office in the rear of the Lewis Banking company building this afternoon about 5:30 o'clock by shooting himself through the right temple with a pistol.

He was president of the Lewis Banking company, the First National bank and several other business and manufacturing concerns and was one of the wealthiest men in this part of the state.

Mr. Lewis served as state senator from the thirteenth district for one term and was elected to congress from the third district in 1896, serving six terms. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. W. H. McKenzie, Montezuma, and Mrs. E. P. Williamson, Macon; two brothers, John F. Lewis, Valdosta, and William Lewis, Montezuma, and two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Dodson, Americus, and Mrs. John P. Holmes, Macon.

County officials stated tonight that the acts of the former congressman during the last few days were like those of an insane man. The investigation shows that on entering his private office Mr. Lewis found Joe Collins, of Montezuma, awaiting a conference. The banker informed Collins that he was "in no frame of mind to talk business," and according to Collins, the banker said "get out, as I intend to commit suicide."

Collins said he stepped to the cashier's office and informed Thomas Marshall, Jr., the cashier, of the conversation. The latter went to the banker's private office and asked, he said, if he had been called. He received the same command as was given to Collins, and had hardly turned his back when the shot was heard.

There were two letters found on the banker's desk, one being addressed to the banker's brother, Minor Lewis, of this city, and another to the banker's mother, Mrs. E. B. Lewis, of this city. The letters were made public. The Lewis banking institutions have had financial difficulties in the past, and the banker's friends of the former congressional said that both Mr. Lewis and his brother, John, had been in Georgia for years, at Hialeah, Okla., and Montezuma, and none ever experienced financial trouble.

J. P. Lewis, a brother, receiver for the Georgia and Florida railroad, came here from Valdosta last night in response to a message from the banker's private office on the verge of a nervous collapse.

PLANS TO SHOVE JOHN S. WILLIAMS OUT OF HIS OFFICE

Washington, December 10.—Abolition of the office of comptroller of the currency and removal of the secretary of the treasury from the federal reserve board are proposed in a bill prepared by Chairman McFadden, of the house banking and currency committee, and introduced today.

Mr. McFadden's measure provides for the transfer of all of the duties and functions of the comptroller of the currency's office to the federal reserve board and also provides that the federal reserve system shall pay all of its expenses out of its earnings.

NEGRO DIES IN BLAZE Firemen Find Body After Flames Are Out

Terry Booker, a negro, 35 years of age, was cremated in a fire which destroyed a house in the rear of 707 Ponce de Leon avenue, Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. His body was found by firemen after the place had burned to the ground.

Booker had been living in the house with two other negroes, Ben Bivins and Wesley Brown, both of whom were away at the time of the fire. It is thought to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp.

FAIR PROTECTION FUND FOR POLICE CHARGED AT PROBE

Secretary Striplin Tells Committee Some of Concessionaires Claimed They Were Paying Officers.

IMPROPER CONDUCT LAID TO POLICEMEN

Couples Arrested in Remote Corners of Lake-wood Turned Loose on Cash Payments, Charges Puckett.

Testimony concerning money alleged to have been raised by concessionaires at the Southeastern fair to buy police protection was a startling feature of the afternoon session of Friday in the councilmanic probe of the police and detective departments.

Information relative to this alleged fund was secured from R. M. Striplin, secretary of the fair association, and W. C. Puckett, former manager of concessions, who were on the stand the greater part of the session. Only two other witnesses were heard before the hour to adjourn. One was Lieutenant T. D. Shaw, of the detective force, whose evidence was in flat contradiction to the testimony of Mr. Striplin, and the other was Detective Howell, who offered statements in rebuttal to evidence given by Clarence Hart, of the morning session. The committee adjourned to meet again next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Under questioning by Chairman Hatcher and other members of the committee, Mr. Striplin revealed a story which he said he had been told by some of the concessionaires operating games of chance during the fair of 1919, that they were paying $25 a week for police protection.

"Concessionaires Pay." He said Edward Hook, of Chicago, told him four concessionaires were contributing this amount, but that Paul Baker, another concessionaire, who operated two "wheels," refused to be assessed, and because of his refusal his booth was "stalked" by Detective T. D. Shaw.

Mr. Striplin said he was informed that Baker was told if he would "kick in" with $50 his place would not be molested by the detective. He said his informant told him that Baker tried to "get square" for less than $50 and "slipped" $30 into Shaw's pocket. The talking continued, however, until he slipped an additional $20 to the detective, it was stated. Baker's home is in Louisville, Ky. Mr. Striplin said he saw him recently, and he expressed willingness to come to Atlanta and testify to giving the money.

His address was furnished to the committee by Mr. Striplin, and an effort will be made to bring him here to appear before the probe.

During the fair of 1918, said Mr. Striplin, he heard that two men were collecting money from their fellow concessionaires, and when he asked them about it he was told that the money was to be used to "take care of certain interests that always had to be taken care of."

He declared that he insisted on knowing for whom the money was made up and how much. This, he said, was not done, and he carried the matter to the committee. He said the money was used to "take care of certain interests that always had to be taken care of."

Two Alleged Gambling Gangs Here Connected, Solicitor Boykin Believes

Men Here Two Years Ago and Those Interested in 1920 "Wire Syndicate" Linked Together by Presence of Floyd Woodward.

MYSTERIOUS "RUTH" FOUND, SAYS BOYKIN

Mrs. Floyd Woodward, Who Appeared Before Grand Jury Friday, Admits She Was Formerly Mrs. Ruth Gobel.

That the gamblers, who have recently been busy in Atlanta, and who are charged with fleeing numerous victims out of hundreds of thousands of dollars, are a part of a gang, which, it is alleged, operated here about two years ago, leaving the city suddenly when Floyd Woodward, who is suspected of being one of the leaders of the 1920 "wire syndicate," shot and killed Ed Mills in a local hotel, is the belief of Solicitor General John Boykin, who will make an effort to establish this fact during the sessions of the grand jury next week.

It also became known Friday that Mrs. Floyd Woodward, who stated that she married Woodward in Marietta, was formerly Mrs. Ruth Gobel, housekeeper of the San Souci hotel at 59 1/2 Cone street, which was one of the places raided by the solicitor as a "gambling den."

When questioned on the subject Mr. Boykin stated that he was practically certain that the laundry bill made out to Miss Ruth, and found in one of the raids, belonged to Mrs. Woodward.

Members of the old "gang" who made Atlanta their headquarters about two years ago have been seen in the city recently, he said, and the fact that the "gang" operates in circles and after "working" one town, goes to other towns, and comes back later on with new members.

The four addresses raised by the solicitor about a month ago were 25 West Peachtree street, 22 1/2 Broad street, 49 1/2 Central avenue, 59 1/2 Cone street. These places were being run under the direction of one "syndicate," according to the evidence unearthed by the solicitor, and the fact that Mrs. Woodward's identity has been established as that of Miss Ruth Gobel, who was employed in the capacity of housekeeper for the Cone street place, links the four addresses more closely together, it is stated in the solicitor's report.

The well defined report is that a certain liquor dealer of this city, who has operated on a large scale more than once in the past, recently sent a high powered boat in charge of a trusty crew to Cuba for a load of the precious fluid to be used for the preholiday trade. He is said to have sent the same high powered boat on other occasions to the same island for the same sort of a cargo, and since the boat has not been seen for weeks, the motor is thought to be out $25,000 cash besides the boat. Furthermore, it is said, he is powerless to recover the money or boat or liquor if the alleged thieves get away with the high sea-way robbery. The loss is patent if the craft fell or falls into the hands of government officers.

Supervising Prohibition Officer D. J. Ganit arrived last night from Jacksonville and when asked about the story declared he did not know whether it is true or not. He came from Jacksonville and said that conditions in Savannah are much improved as to law observance, attributing the improvement to the right kind of a federal judge and district attorney.

Never Brought to Trial. The investigation by the solicitor's office of the alleged gambling gang, then quartered in a local hotel, was the aftermath of the killing of Mills by Woodward. Woodward, who was believed to be connected with the visitors, was given a hearing before a coroner's jury and turned loose. He was never tried in court.

The solicitor's office looked into the matter of the alleged gang with which Woodward was connected, but at the time all the members had gone, and he decided there was not enough evidence available to take any legal steps.

Gordon Noel Hurtel, clerk of the recorder's court, has been subpoenaed to appear before the jury this morning at 10 o'clock and to bring with him the police docket for the last two years. The jury will not be in session, but the books will be furnished the solicitor.

G. O. P. LEADERS TO PUSH REPEAL OF WAR-TIME LAWS

FOUR ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Machine Crashes Into Side of Street Car and Conductor May Lose Foot as Result.

Four persons were injured in automobile accidents on the streets of Atlanta Friday.

T. H. Spauld, of 653 Woodward avenue, was run over and slightly injured by an automobile belonging to Herman Speers, of Madison, Ga., and driven by Crawford Jones, chauffeur. The accident occurred at the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets about 4 o'clock in the evening. Jones was arrested and held on a charge of reckless driving by Patrolmen W. A. Buck and C. D. Ford.

C. E. George, conductor of the Georgia Railway Power company, suffered a fracture of the left ankle when an automobile struck the side of his street car. His foot was struck by the machine and mashed against the side of the car. The accident occurred at the corner of Bellwood and Ashby streets.

The automobile which was driven by two young men swerved from its course and was wrecked against a telephone pole. The two occupants abandoned it and made their escape.

Mr. George was taken to Grady hospital. Doctors say that it may be necessary to amputate the foot. The police are conducting an investigation on the theory that the automobile was being driven recklessly.

Sara Woodall, negro, who lived on Hardee street, was bruised and suffered the loss of several teeth when she was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. John Hardwick, of 598 Ponce de Leon avenue. The accident occurred at the corner of Edgewood and Bell avenues. Woodall was taken to the Grady hospital for treatment.

The accident was witnessed by Police Commissioner Andy R. King in whose car the negro, who had been a cook in Mr. King's family for years, had been riding. Mr. King accompanied Mrs. Hardwick to the police station, where she made a report of the accident and was released under copy of charges.

Cleo Knight, 6 years old, of Carr place, was slightly hurt in the evening when he was struck by William Jones, of 98 Hampton street. After medical treatment at Grady hospital the child was allowed to go home. Jones was held under a $200 bond on the charge of reckless driving.

Believe Shipload Of Liquor Stolen By 'Trusted' Crew

Savannah, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—The alleged theft of a whole shipload of contraband whisky somewhere at sea, with the vessel and its equipment, is the sensation of the town so far as the part of the ones interested in the liquor business in its various ramifications are concerned.

The well defined report is that a certain liquor dealer of this city, who has operated on a large scale more than once in the past, recently sent a high powered boat in charge of a trusty crew to Cuba for a load of the precious fluid to be used for the preholiday trade. ## SCUM OF COUNTRY, WITNESSES CALL BLACK AND TANS

Four Former Members of British Constabulary Tell American Commission of Irish Conditions.

BOMBING ORDER LAID TO BRITISH GENERAL

Witness Crowley Says He Heard General Lucas Tell His Men to "Bomb, Burn and Fire" the Home of Every Sinn Feiner.

BY HUDSON HAWLEY.
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, December 10.—Four former members of the Royal Irish constabulary who have resigned from that force during the past year because of disapproval of its methods, were the star witnesses before the American commission of one hundred on conditions in Ireland, at its hearing on Friday. The commission will now recess until Wednesday of next week, when additional witnesses are expected to arrive from England and Ireland.

Strapping Upright Hunkies. The four ex-constables, Daniel F. Crowley, John Tangney, J. J. Cadden and Daniel Galvin, are all now living in New York. They are strapping upright hunkies, from Galvin, who is 32, down to Cadden, who is 19. One and all voiced their contempt for the "black and tan" auxiliaries to the constabulary, brought over from England.

Each of the former constables said he had resigned as a "protest against British misrule," and later fled Ireland in fear of attack by former comrades.

The witnesses told of raids in which they said they had been forced to participate as members of the constabulary and of the receipt from British commanders of orders to destroy life and property.

"Did your men fraternize with the 'black and tans'?" young Cadden was asked.

"Oh, yes, they did," he replied, his eyes brightening. "They had a couple of fights."

Crowley's testimony was largely concerned with the now famous order issued by Brigadier General Lucas, of the British army, soon after the murder of Mayor McCurtain, of Cork, who was MacSwiney's predecessor.

Bomb, Burn and Fire. Lucas, who was later kidnapped by the Irish volunteers, is alleged to have ordered that the home of every "Sinn Feiner" was to be "bombed, burned and fired." Crowley said he had heard the order read in barracks, but added that it was not carried out in his particular district, as the people were peaceful. Later he heard Lucas repeat the order while inspecting barracks. He himself had been ordered to point out two men whose killing had been ordered, he declared, but refused to inform.

Charges that the British had threatened his life when he protested against the searching out of men on the single charge of being a republican were placed before the commission by Crowley.

Tangney, a tall, red-headed youth of 25, told of similar orders, issued confidentially to his sergeant, to the effect that known Sinn Fein sympathizers, if they resisted arrest, were to be shot.

HORACE E. DODGE, MAKER OF AUTOS, DIES IN FLORIDA

Palm Beach, Fla., December 10.—Horace E. Dodge, millionaire automobile manufacturer, died at his winter home here tonight.

Mr. Dodge has been in ill health since he suffered an attack of influenza a year ago at the time his older brother, John Dodge, died in New York. It was said the immediate cause of death was cirrhosis of the liver. He was 52 years old.

Mr. Dodge recently purchased Marina Villa here from Charles B. Dillingham, a New York theatrical man, and Mr. and Mrs. Dodge and their son Horace E. Dodge, Jr., came to occupy it ten days ago accompanied by a Detroit specialist. Miss Delphine Dodge was recently married to James Cromwell, of Philadelphia, and they are now on their honeymoon in the Orient.

COTTON GROWERS PROMISED RELIEF IN LEE'S NEW BILL

Liberalizing of Credits by Banks of Federal Reserve System Is Chief Object Sought by Georgia Congressman.

ATLANTANS PROTEST HIGH PRICE OF COAL

County Commissioners of Georgia to Send Delegation to Washington in Interest of Good Roads.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Washington, December 10.—Representative Lee, of Georgia, ranking democrat on the house agricultural committee, Wednesday introduced a joint resolution for the liberalizing of credits to the cotton farmers of the south, the bill being the outgrowth of several cotton conferences held during the present acute situation resulting from market fluctuations. The resolution provides that:

"Whereas, there exists in the cotton growing states of the country unprecedented and unparalleled distress on account of the inability of the farmers to dispose of their cotton now in marketable condition at prices that will pay the cost of production; and

"Whereas, the banks of the country are unable to extend credit to the cotton farmer in order that his cotton may be held until it can be sold in a fair and reasonable market; therefore be it

"Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States, in congress assembled, That the federal reserve board is hereby authorized and directed forthwith to take such action as may be necessary to permit the member banks of the federal reserve system, consistent with sound banking, to grant liberal extensions of credit to the cotton farmers of the cotton now held by them, by permitting the discounting of such notes of extension at the lowest possible rate of interest."

The resolution further provides that the federal reserve board be directed to take such action as may be necessary to permit the member banks of the federal reserve system to make loans or advances to the cotton farmers of the country at the rate of 25 cent per pound, basis middling, upon the delivery of proper and lawful warehouse certificates.

Hearing Agreed Upon. The federal reserve board is also authorized by the resolution to make such provisions and adopt such rates and regulations as may be necessary to carry out and effectuate the purposes of the act.

It is agreed that this measure will be permitted a hearing before the banking and currency committee at this session. Representatives of interests other than cotton claim, however, that their producing constituents are equally depressed by present deflations, and that there should be no special or class legislation bearing upon the present general farm situation. The cotton members, however, will make a fight for it in the general line of remedial measures.

A vigorous protest from a number of Atlanta's citizens, alleging that the price of domestic coal in Atlanta was on a basis of profiteering, was filed with the department of justice for investigation. The charge was made that the railroads were securing coal at around $2.50 a ton at the Tennessee and Kentucky mines, while consumers in Atlanta were forced to pay $15.25 and higher a ton. The difference in freight and a reasonable profit, the citizens claimed.

IRISHMEN ARE TOLD TO SURRENDER ARMS

Failure Means Death Penalty—While Invoking Martial Law, Premier Says He Will Seek Conferences With Moderate Irishmen in Effort to Bring Peace.

Martial Law Ordered From Dublin Castle In Several Counties

Dublin, December 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Martial law was proclaimed from Dublin castle today in the city and county of Cork, the city and county of Limerick, and in the counties of Tipperary and Kerry.

BY PERRY SARR.
(United News Staff Correspondent.)
London, December 10.—Lloyd-George brings to Ireland the open hand of peace and the clenched fist of martial law. It is a double-barreled offering, the final decision of the British cabinet, to deal softly with those who earnestly wish an Irish peace and with rigid harshness to those who "persist" in a campaign of murder to gain independence.

As I cabled Thursday night, martial law over the disaffected area of southern Ireland will go into effect immediately. Men in Irish republican uniforms or men who bear weapons against the crown forces will be subject to court martial.

Never Complete Independence. To those associations and elements of southern Ireland which earnestly hope for peace, Lloyd-George addresses the hope that continued negotiation may result in a solution of the problem. But the solution must be something short of complete independence, which the British government will never grant.

The cabinet will deal with members of the Dail Eilrann who have proved themselves alien to the so-called "murder gangs" which have terrorized the south of Ireland. Invitations for the moderate members of the Irish parliament to visit England, where they are assured a hearing at Downing street, is implied in the premier's momentous address of Friday to the house of commons.

In fact, suggestions looking to peace may come from any "recognized and representative group of Irishmen," and they are assured of consideration.

The government will not only have nothing to do with the fomenters of armed outbreaks, but it will do its utmost to crush them and their movement.

The actual State of Siege. The martial law decision is merely a development of the earlier "law-and-order" act passed by parliament, which grants the cabinet almost autocratic powers in dealing with the situation. The "disaffected" area includes the city of Cork, it is understood, and will place all

A story was pulished recently, relating how, in some cities, the local authorities had bought large quantities of foodstuffs, and sold them to the people, because dealers had refused to reduce prices in conformity with market quotations. As long as there is a ROGERS store in Atlanta, such a necessity will never arise here. Lowest prices are assured to the people of this city through the ROGERS stores.

SEARCH STARTED FOR HENRY FORD

New York, December 10.—Representatives of the federal district attorney here have started a nationwide search for Henry Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer, who is wanted as a government witness in the trial of Dr. Edward A. Rumbly, charged with concealing the alleged German ownership of The New York Evening Mail during part of the war.

Efforts to serve a subpoena on Mr. Ford, whose name was mentioned several times in testimony this week by Dr. Rumbly in connection with his alleged espionage activities, were made this afternoon's session when it was said a process server had been trying to reach the automobile manufacturer without success, for the last month.

FORMER CHOIR BOY GOES TO GALLOWS AFTER A CONCERT

Chicago, December 10.—Nicholas Viana, former choir boy, was hanged in the county jail today, his nineteenth birthday. He was the second member of the Cardinella gang to die on the gallows in the county jail. Samuel Cardinella, the leader, is also under sentence of death.

ALLIED NATIONS TO BE REMINDED OF DEBT TO U. S.

Washington, December 10.—Senator McCall, democrat, Tennessee, introduced a joint resolution in the senate today declaring that it is the opinion of congress that allied nations indebted to the United States for approximately nine and a half billion dollars borrowed during the war should begin paying interest on their obligations by November 1, 1921.

Under the resolution's terms, these payments would be "used as a fund with which to pay any remuneration congress may hereafter determine shall be paid to soldiers and sailors for services in the war."

SERVICE

SERVICE does not mean physical activity in waiting on the trade.

SERVICE does not mean suggesting, "Something just as good," or persuading customers to try something they probably do not want.

SERVICE consists of recognizing the needs of buyers in the community, selecting and stocking the goods that meet the 100 per cent needs, and making it easy and pleasant for customers to select the goods.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic Coughs and Persistent Colds Lead to Serious Lung Trouble—You Can Stop Them Now With Creosote That Is Pleasant to Take.

A New Medical Discovery With Twofold Action. Soothes and Heals the Inflamed Surface and Kills the Germ—Indorsed by Highest Authorities.

Money Refunded If Any Cough or Cold, No Matter of How Long Standing, Is Not Relieved After Taking According to Directions.

FINE FOR BUILDING UP THE SYSTEM AFTER COLDS OR THE FLU.

Of all known drugs, Creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung trouble. Creosote contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creosote is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis, and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Increases appetite and body-weight. Ask your druggist—(Adv.)

SHEPARD HEARING PLANS ARE MADE

Bail Cases Will Be Heard Separately and Solicitor Expects Them to Consume Several Days.

Macon, Ga., December 16.—(Special.)—Indications are that the hearing for bail which will begin here Tuesday in the Shepard poisoning case, will occupy two or three days. The state will present a number of witnesses at the hearing, it was announced today, but names of probable witnesses to be called were not divulged.

The cases will be taken up separately, but disclosures made by the state in the first case to be heard will likely affect the other cases to follow.

Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett went to Atlanta today, but refused to divulge the object of his trip.

That Eldridge Cuts, attorney for his wife, is engineering the defense for all four defendants was learned upon good authority tonight. Despite apparent breaks and disclosures among the defendants it is stated that Mr. Cuts will map out the entire course for the defense.

There is said to be no change in the plans of the state to arrange for the trials of the four persons now in custody, in connection with the death of the Fort Valley peach grower, for the next term of the Houston superior court, which convenes the first Monday in April. But as the first week is always devoted to grand jury work and to other preliminaries the actual trials of the cases will not get under way before the second week in April.

Solicitor Garrett today expressed the opinion that the trials can be disposed of within the week, to which the cases are assigned, although he anticipates a hard fight involving technicalities.

Eldridge Cuts, husband of Mrs. Annie Cuts, has returned to his home in Fitzgerald and will not come back to Macon before Monday.

It is around Mrs. Cuts that the greatest interest now centers, not a move in her behalf having been known to have prepared a writ of habeas corpus a few days ago.

Mrs. F. Eugene Elmer and Mrs. Cuts continue to refuse to see visitors except close personal friends. Both admitted today they are eating "mighty lonesome."

BRITAIN WILL TRY TO QUIET IRELAND

most the entire southern part of the island in a virtual state of siege.

At the outset of his speech to commons Friday, the premier pointed out the British argument that "every Sinn Fein proposal and ex-every communication was conceived in the spirit of one independent belligerent power offering peace to another belligerent with while it is at war, and to whom it is in a position to dictate."

Under these circumstances, he declared, the government had decided to adopt the double policy.

"We shall continue to intensify our campaign against the small, highly organized, and desperate minority which is using murder and courage every agency that has which will bring peace neither to Ireland nor to Great Britain," he declared.

"On the other hand, we shall encourage every agency that has shown itself to be really anxious for a settlement leading to lasting peace."

Sinn Fein Leaders Accused.

In referring to the recent communication from the Gaelic league council asking directly for peace, Lloyd-George called it "a remarkable resolution, requiring courage in its denunciation of the murder program—the first of its kind we have yet seen."

To the suggestion that the ban on the dail eireann be lifted, the premier replied that permission to the Irish parliament to choose their own delegates for a peace mission was highly impracticable.

"Some of the dail eireann's members are guilty of crime," he said, "crime that would render them liable to punishment in any civilized country. To such as these safe conducts to England can not be granted. But we are willing to grant it to those who are not guilty of such crime."

"I shall ask the house not to insist upon my naming, here, the exact areas which will be subject to martial law," said the premier, "for I wish to get the notices there first."

All arms to be surrendered to the crown forces or to the Parish priests. In the latter event, the priests will not be questioned regarding the origin of the weapons, provided they will guarantee their immediate surrender to the police.

Death for Keeping Arms.

"I trust this method will facilitate the surrender of arms, which we so greatly desire. Those who retain weapons after a date to be named in the proclamation will be liable to court martial and the death penalty. Similarly, those men who without authority wear the British uniform will be subject to arrest and court martial."

"The government regrets the necessity of putting this policy into force. It infinitely prefers a civilian administration. If these men are open rebels and their purpose is to shoot our soldiers, it is the duty of the latter to shoot back. We are meeting out the ordinary rules of civilized warfare."

"In the west and south of Ireland the terrorists have been driven back to the hills, where in organized bands they have ambushed, attacked and intimidated the police and other forces of the crown. We are tired of terrorism. These bands must be broken up. Their capture is admittedly difficult because some of them are dressed as civilians and some are wearing British uniforms. Strong action is therefore necessary."

An explanation of the premier's speech was issued late in the day by the Irish office, which declared that the government's decision as one designed "to round up all the arms in Ireland and crush the rebellion."

To Pursue Negotiations.

In the meantime the Irish office says, it purposes to pursue the peace negotiations, both officially and unofficially.

Archbishop Clune appears to be highly favored as an emissary of peace to whom the Irish office is prepared to listen. And it is pointed out that no one in Ireland has yet repudiated the archbishop's any of his dealings with the government.

In regard to the martial law proclamation, observers declare that the government has dodged this issue as long as was possible, and that until the present time it has lacked the ability to enforce such a measure, even if it were practical.

whereas, today the military force in Ireland is stronger than it ever has been and the Sinn Fein troops appear to be on the run.

Large discretionary powers are vested in local commanders as to the method of enforcing the law. The plan generally followed will be to give the rebels ten days in which to surrender their arms, after which possessions weapons will be punishable by death.

Sinn Fein Offensives Expected.

At labor headquarters, Lloyd-George's speech was viewed as bringing to an end the possibility of an armistice. Keen disappointment is voiced at the failure of Henderson's attempt to bring about peace.

It is believed that Sinn Fein's answer to the proclamation will be a rigorous offensive against the military. There is general lack of belief in the government's statement that Sinn Fein is already crushed and a bloody clash in the contested area is forecast.

It is pointed out that the government has not yet avenged the murder of the British officers in Dublin, and that the guerrillas have been punished. The recent quiet through Ireland is interpreted as a Sinn Fein partial truce while the peace negotiations were in progress.

Laborites declare that Henderson has persuaded the Catholic hierarchy in Ireland and the Irish labor party to agree that a separate armistice and navy for Ireland is impossible, and they believe that the government has chattered all change of policy by its failure to deal with the Sinn Fein leaders, arguing that this would have been tantamount to recognition of Ireland's separate status.

BLACK AND TANS CALLED SCUM OF THE COUNTRY

in the slightest degree, were to be shot dead. He declared that Brigadier General Deasy, division commander, had ordered his men to attend mass in the village churches fully armed, and to stand in the front of the church by the altar, in order to show their authority and cow the people. From Deasy's order, there had been no disturbances in the churches, he said, and added that the order applied to "R. C." structures only.

"R. C." stands for Roman Catholic, he you know," he informed Sonny Walsh, of Massachusetts, in all seriousness.

It's Dogs, I Mean.

"The inspector and a couple of officers went into a saloon then," he said, telling of a foray in force to break up an Irish village festival, and when they came out there were two Irish terriers by the door.

"Two What?" asked Walsh.

"Terriers," the witness replied, in a thick brogue. "It's dogs, I mean," and again the crowd roared.

Tangney characterized the "black and tans" as "the worst scum of the country," and added that he had seen "There were many clashes between the 'black and tans' and the Royal Irish constabulary, for we looked upon them as below us. I finally resigned because there was nothing left for me to do as a policeman but lead the military to their butcheries."

Cadden said that the fifty constables stationed at his barracks all but himself, were drinking men, and were often drunk on duty. After the reprisal for Crum's shooting, he said, a British general came down to investigate.

"Why did you think he was a general?" he was asked.

"Because he was so well escorted," Cadden replied, amid laughter.

No Limit to Liquor.

Cadden devoted a large part of his recital to a description of life in the military barracks, declaring that each barrack contained a canteen and that "there is absolutely no limit to the amount of liquor which men can buy."

"As a result," he continued, "the men spend their time in only the ways, to the short duty on the streets, in the canteen and in bed; and they don't go out on duty as a rule, and the canteens are always open."

Cadden related accounts of midnight raids and burnings and declared he had seen men, women and children dragged from their beds among showers of bullets to watch their homes burn.

He said that the quantities of food had been destroyed by the British forces.

Galvin, in denying that there was religious friction in Ireland, said: "As a result, in one place where I was the Catholic priest and the Protestant pastor used to go out shooting together."

"You mean hunting together?" asked Dudley Field Malone, who was examining him.

"Oh, of course, surely," the ex-constable replied, and again the laughter broke out.

She Said Girl Killed.

The commission also heard details of the killing of Lord Mayor McCurtain, of Cork, from Miss MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney, successor to Mayor McCurtain, an eye witness account of a military raid on a small County Clare town from P. J. Gulliford, of Pittsburg, Pa., and a description of conditions in Ireland in September as seen by Mrs. Thomas Murphy, of New York.

Mrs. Murphy told the commission that she saw the military "deliberately shoot a five-year-old girl who was out after curfew hours."

She also gave an account of how "black and tans held her up to search for arms and in doing so tore the clothing from her two-year-old child held in her arms."

Conditions in Ireland at present were described by Mrs. Murphy as serious because of a shortage of food. She described the bread as protest claimed, did not justify such prices.

"unstable," and declared that for nearly eight months she had been unable to get milk for her baby.

The protest was filed with the department by Congressman Upshaw, and the bureau in charge of complaints of this nature agreed to begin an investigation to see whether or not the laws as to excess or unreasonable profits are being violated.

Federal Aid for Roads.

A committee of six from the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia will reach Washington Monday, December 13, to urge congress to pass an act continuing federal aid to post roads. The party will be hosts Monday evening at a dinner given to the members of the Georgia delegation in congress.

That the sixty-seventh congress will pass another federal aid to roads bill is assured through the amount for annual disbursement will be one of the contentions over which there will be a scramble.

Southern and western members will seek to make the appropriation a hundred million dollars a year as a minimum, while eastern members will fight the proposition as excessive and hold up the economy cry as an excuse for seeking to make the appropriation "less than it is under the existing law. The present law carried a total of $275,000,000 for five years.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE IN TUBERCULOSIS DRIVE

Good progress in the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis association is reported by representatives of the Atlanta Women's club. The seal campaign continued Friday, and plans will be made to keep the seals on sale until Christmas.

Eugene O'Brien, Martha Mansfield and Helen Gardner, motion picture stars in attendance at the exposition here, have assisted in the work.

Reports from the 300 or more workers of the Atlanta Women's club indicate that several thousand dollars have already been raised. The Salvation Army also reported good results from their co-operative assistance in the drive.

The Advertising Club of Atlanta is making good progress in the sale of health bonds, which are offered to those who wish to make a more substantial contribution to the fight against the white plague. The goal of the ad men is $10,000.

CITIZENS IN NINTH WARD WILL FIGHT HIGHER GAS RATE

There will be a mass meeting of the citizens of the old Edgewood portion of the ninth ward, at the residence of E. D. Peters, 105 Arizona avenue this evening at 8 o'clock. The purpose of this meeting is to protest against the increasing of gas rates by the Georgia Railway and Power company.

ZONITE

the World-War Antiseptic

Greatest Chemical Discovery of the Century

ZONITE is a highly concentrated and stabilized form of Dakin's Solution, the marvelous antiseptic discovered by two famous surgeons of the Rockefeller Institute, New York City, which accomplished such remarkable results in the hospitals of the Allied armies and saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of desperately wounded men. This form of antiseptic has been adopted by the medical profession throughout the civilized world.

For catarrh

A series of medical tests have shown that Zonite is a certain and effective agent for checking this disease. Catarrh is caused by germs. Nothing powerful enough to kill these germs could be used in the nasal passage until the discovery of the world war antiseptic. Zonite is used as a nasal spray in overcoming this obnoxious, common and stubborn complaint.

For the feet

Perspiring and swollen feet are relieved and deodorized if bathed in a solution of Zonite and water.

To rid the home of poisons

Statistics show that the number of men, women and children who die annually as a result of taking poisons by mistake is appalling. Zonite is non-poisonous, and may be used as freely and frequently as desired without injurious consequences.

For dandruff

Zonite will destroy germs which cause diseases of the scalp. If used a few times after shampooing, the scalp becomes healthy and clean and the cause of dandruff is removed.

For bed linen

All bed linen used by persons afflicted with a contagious disease should be washed in water to which Zonite has been added. This will not only disinfect the bed clothing, but the sheets and pillow cases will become as white as snow.

For infants

Zonite is invaluable in the care of babies. It will disinfect milk bottles and nipples, and should be added to the bath water to prevent skin infection.

After shaving

Zonite will soothe the skin and prevent infection of any sort.

Insect bites

Zonite will counteract the poison and allay the inflammation caused by bee stings, insect bites, etc.

To disinfect drinking water

A few drops of Zonite added to a glass of questionable water will kill all bacteria and make it perfectly safe to drink. The antiseptic should be used for this purpose wherever Typhoid is epidemic.

Tooth and hair brushes

It is highly important that tooth and hair brushes, particularly the former, should be kept free from germs. Zonite will accomplish this and will not injure the bristles.

As a general disinfectant

A $1.00 bottle of Zonite will make ten gallons of a powerful disinfecting solution which will disinfect and deodorize sinks, toilets, garbage cans, bed pans, ice boxes, etc.

Zonite is a colorless liquid that does not stain, and leaves no odor. It is now sold by all druggists. A corps of trained nurses is stationed in the principal downtown drug stores. They will be glad to give full particulars regarding Zonite.

Pepto-Mangan Purifies

Tune Up Your Blood With
It—Notice the Difference
With Rich Red Blood in Your Veins.

The man or woman or the child with a sickly-looking complexion, a pale face, has blood that is filled with poison. Instead of rich red blood coursing through their veins, they are trying to get along with blood that is weak and thin. It doesn't carry life-giving qualities through the body. You see those men and women every day. They are so tired. Their shoulders droop. They slouch. It is all they can do to get around.

As soon as you begin to feel that way take Pepto-Mangan, the well-known blood tonic. It will clear away the poisons and make your blood rich with red corpuscles. Would and tablet form. One has the same medicinal value as the other. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." ## STOCK OF EXPORT COMPANY RAISED

of Federal International Banking Company in New Orleans.

Books of the Federal International Banking company, proposed at a recent meeting in New Orleans for financing cotton exports, were closed yesterday in accordance with the original plan of the organizers, at which time it was announced that the $5,000,000 stock of the organization had been oversubscribed.

Simultaneously a call was issued for a meeting of the organization committee of the company, which will place the institution on a permanent basis and which will be held at New Orleans on December 17. Rudolph S. Hect, president of the Federal International bank of New Orleans, issued the call.

Georgia's $1,500,000 quota of stock was taken in full, and it is believed that it will be exceeded in belated subscriptions in the mails. State subscriptions indicated follow:

Georgia ..... $1,500,000
Louisiana ..... 1,500,000
Texas ..... 1,500,000
Alabama ..... 500,000
Mississippi ..... 500,000
Tennessee ..... 500,000

Total ..... $6,500,000

The campaign for subscriptions to the company in this state was launched early in November following the return of local financial leaders from the opening meeting in New Orleans. The Georgia Bankers' association endorsed the movement, the state was divided into five groups headed by chairmen and then subdivided into county units headed by county chairmen. It is said that subscriptions so far received represent approximately 40 per cent of the banks of the state.

The purpose of the bank is to handle export paper and provide funds whereby American dealers can do business with European buyers who insist on long-time notes. Various European governments have agreed to underwrite the obligations of the buyers in their countries and the formation of the bank here enables southern producers to sell for export under terms suitable to the buyers.

Three More Inches And Rain Record Will Be Smashed

But Today Atlanta Will Have Abundance of Sunshine and Jupiter Pluvius
Will Rest for a While.

After four days of dark, damp, dreary weather, Atlanta is to have an abundance of sunshine Saturday, while Jupiter Pluvius will hold his force in check, according to G. E. von Herrmann, forecaster, and everyone will be given a last reminder of summer weather as the thermometer starts the day around forty degrees and slowly rises to about fifty-five.

But Mr. von Herrmann is sad. It's true he wishes the best of weather conditions for early shoppers, but only three more inches of rain are needed to break the world's record for rainfall. And, since the weather prophet chronicles records every day, he desires to relieve the monotony by breaking all previous records of rainfall.

The skies today will be without clouds and for the next several days, Mr. von Herrmann says, conditions will remain the same. "We have twenty more days to break our record, however, and maybe Jupiter Pluvius will awake from his slumber long enough to allow us three more inches."

Generally fair weather will prevail over the United States Saturday, the only disturbance of any importance being a considerable area of low atmosphere pressure over Montana.

FARMERS ARE JAILED

AND LIQUOR SEIZED

Two farmers from Ellijay, Ga., are under arrest at police station charged with violating the prohibition law. Arthur Warren and Jim Southern, both living their age as 18 years. They were taken into custody by Federal Agents John W. Nation and George M. Hicks at the Union Station Friday night, as they alighted from the L. & N. train and, according to the officers, had with them several gallons of corn whisky. They will be given a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Carter this morning.

BIG DECREASE SHOWN

IN U. S. STEEL REPORT

New York, December 10.—The monthly tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation, made public here today, showed $2,481 tons of unfilled orders on hand November 30. This is a decrease of $15,371 tons from last month's unfilled orders, which totaled 9,836,852. These figures represent the largest decrease in steel unfilled tonnage for any month since the reversal of last August, and bring the total unfilled orders down to the lowest point of the year.

Arrangements are being made by the veterans to give a Christmas tree and a dance at the wigwam Friday evening, December 24. It is expected that 1,000 people will be present on this occasion.

ATLANTA GAS SERVICE BREAKDOWN PREDICTED

H. M. Atkinson Calls Street Railway Situation "Impossible."

H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the board of directors of the Georgia Railway and Power company, said today that the gas service will be broken down Friday night, and that the following statement in which he predicts the breakdown of local gas service unless relief is afforded and in which he blames the railway situation "impossible."

"I have just returned to Atlanta after an absence of four months. It seems to me that the people of Atlanta cannot realize the situation of the gas company and other departments of the Georgia Railway and Power company and how injurious the present conditions are to the interest of the public."

"For each dollar received from its customers, the gas company is paying out $1.15, for coal, oil and labor, losing 15 cents on every dollar taken in, to which must be added interest on debt and return on investment. The gas plant is a large actual loss on every thousand cubic feet of gas sold."

"The gas improvements now under construction, ordered by the railroad committee, will cost $200,000. This will add this money to a losing business. Could the gas company make a profit on its business or its service if he is already paying out $1.15 to take in a dollar?"

"For three years we have worried ourselves telling the public what would happen. The railroads have taken it to be already broken down. If the present situation continues the time will come when there will not be any service at all. "What right have people to complain of the gas service when they are saying terms and conditions that they can long continue to get for $1 gas that costs $1.15 for the coal, oil and labor consumed in making it, and also get free use of the gas plant?"

"Do the people really believe that they can permanently ride from Atlanta to College Park, Decatur, Stone Mountain, Marietta, etc., for from one-third to one-half of the actual cost of hauling them? "Do the people imagine that water power can be developed when those now operating are not permitted to earn a fair return on the cash invested in them, or even as much as the rate paid on government bonds?"

"The company is struggling and doing its best to furnish service at less than cost to the people, but this impossible situation has also stopped any possibility of expansion of the enterprise and is impairing the service of all departments."

"We have for years been planning a new gas plant, at a cost of millions of dollars. The possibility of its ever being built is ended under present conditions. No one will lend capital to a losing business, yet Atlanta will suffer for it."

"We have a program of continuous waddy development, the result of years of study. There is not the slightest possibility of developing a single additional horsepower under existing conditions. No one will lend money to a losing business."

Electric Railroad.

"We have had plans for interurban electric railroad construction. They can never be realized under present conditions. It is not only impossible to build a single mile of railroad, but those now operating will be scrapped if the railroad is continued. No one will lend capital to carry on a losing proposition. Yet the growth of Atlanta is dependent on it. "One would think that with the recent example of the steam railroads and the awful loss suffered by the public because the railroads did not receive adequate rates the people would have learned the lesson that the freight has got to be paid in the end, which means fair, just and reasonable rates, and that anything else means destruction of that service."

"Atlanta is rapidly traveling the road that leads to broken down gas, street railroad and electric service. The prevailing idea that the present 60-cent dollar will pay for as much service as the pre-war dollar. A 10-cent street car fare today or $2 per thousand cubic feet for gas, won't furnish as much service as a 5-cent street car fare or a dollar for gas before the war."

Plain Truths.

"It seems almost unnecessary to call the attention of people to these plain truths. All they have got to do is to remember their own experience during the past five years and what they have been paying for everything else."

"The Atlanta Constitution, very naturally and properly, continually warns editorially against a crime it is to let the water in the river run to waste, entirely overlooking the fact that the only possibility of attracting the millions of dollars of new capital necessary for such developments is for the people of Georgia to be given a square deal in the shape of adequate rates. We are not getting such a square deal, however, and we are at the present time operating nearly every wheel of industry in Atlanta and north Georgia by water power."

"I am not a pessimist, but the very opposite. I have tried to state a few plain facts. I am not ill-natured about these conditions—I am just sorry."

G. D. ALTMAN IS FREED

Charged With Using Mails

in Fraud Scheme.

On the grounds that evidence offered by postoffice inspectors was not strong enough to warrant an indictment, United States Commissioner W. Colquitt Carter discharged G. D. Altman, former South Carolina attorney, who had been arrested on a charge of devising a scheme to defraud and obtain money by false pretenses, and using the United States mail in furtherance of the scheme. Commissioner Carter contended that nothing had been offered to show any intention to defraud on Mr. Altman's part.

Altman was arrested Thursday after E. A. Smith, of 514 Spring street, had reported to the authorities that he had answered an advertisement which appeared in a local newspaper Sunday, in which Altman, calling for bank cashiers, said that he was retired to deposit $150 to partially defray expenses in organizing a new bank in Atlanta, with the understanding that if he was not accepted as cashier, the money would be promptly refunded.

The government charging intimating that Altman was securing a similar amount from other prospective applicants on the strength of promises of lucrative positions with a $25,000,000 banking enterprise which he claims to be organizing, with branches in all sections of the country.

Attorney Frank F. Herndon, counsel for Altman, displayed a charter granted by the Fulton superior court to the "Liberty Corporation," which is the name Altman's enterprise is known under, giving the concern authority to conduct a discount and loan business and to establish branches.

TWO NEGROES JAILED ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Two Residences Are Entered and Robbed Friday,
Police Are Told.

The attempted burglary early Friday morning of the French Millinery store at 292 Edgewood avenue resulted in the arrest of two negroes, Julius Lawson and Isaac Beasley, both of whom gave their address as Brookes alley, by Patrolmen G. E. Williams and W. D. McGee, who were working the beat in plainclothes.

According to the officers, the men were captured as they were about to enter the place, after having twisted the lock off of the front door. Lawson is reported to have confessed his part in numerous robberies about the city, implicating others.

Pending a full investigation into their past, they are being held under a blanket charge of suspicion at police station.

Two daylight burglaries were reported to the police Friday. The residence of Mrs. L. M. Smith, of 147 Base street, was entered and a number of articles left in the hall stolen. Mrs. Smith told the officers that this robbery was committed by two negro men who made a practice of going on front porches, ringing the door bell and trying to open the door. If unlocked or response to the ringing was slow, they would gather whatsoever was most convenient and make a hasty retreat.

Mrs. Hooper Alexander's home in Decatur was entered by a daylight robber, who was discovered by Mrs. Alexander as he was descending the stairs. While offering an explanation for his presence in the house, he backed toward the back door, through which he fled. Considerable jewelry and money was taken.

E. W. LANE NAMED ON THE COUNCIL OF RESERVE BANK

E. W. Lane, of Jacksonville, president of the Atlantic National bank in that city, director of the Citizens & Southern bank of Atlanta, and brother of Mills B. Lane, of Savannah, president of the Citizens & Southern banks, has been named to membership on the advisory council of the federal reserve bank of the sixth district for the year 1921. It was announced Friday.

Mr. Lane will succeed Oscar Wells, president of the First National bank of Birmingham, who was on the council during 1920 and who retires under the annual rotation system that governs the office.

The Gifts Men Give To - Men -

When a man makes a gift to another man, he makes it practical and certain to be appreciated because being a man himself he sort of knows what other men want.

And nine times out of ten his gift comes from a Store for Men like ours, where the very best quality is to be had. Frequently a man pays a good deal more for his gifts than a woman would pay, because a man doesn't realize that the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company sells merchandise of the very Highest Quality at lower prices than it can be obtained elsewhere. Women do and that is why we sell so many things for men, to women. But more and more the men of Atlanta are finding out for themselves that they get splendid, interested service here, from men. That the ways of this Store for Men are the ways of the better class haberdasheries in the larger Cities. That the things they purchase here are smart and that there is nothing in the idea that a Department Store cannot serve well the interests of Men. Especially at this time of the year we are anxious to serve you to the best of our ability and we have added to our sales force to do this.

Before closing may we again call your attention to the QUALITY OF OUR WOVEN MADRAS SHIRTS. These are the best shirts for the money brought to the City of Atlanta for several years. They are made for us to our own specifications from woven madras which is thoroughly sponged before being made up. Each shirt is laundered after making and no shirt, regardless of name or brand is superior in the details of workmanship. These shirts are offered for..... $2.95

Dancing Contest At Club de Vingt.

An event of Saturday afternoon will be the tea-dance of the senior members of the Club de Vingt. From among the chaperons attending, Mr. Arthur Murray will select five judges to decide upon the best dancers in the dancing contest, which will be a feature of the afternoon. Mr. Abel Winburn and his orchestra will play.

Tea-Dance and Ball.

Two dances will be given next week for the junior and intermediate members of the Club de Vingt. The ballroom of the D. A. R. chapter house being previously engaged.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Indorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliver, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically indorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whisky, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of your cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal, and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your wish in hand, take the drink at one swallow, and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable and the best cough remedy for infants and children.—(adv.)

For Wednesday, December 15, the younger members of the Club de Vingt will, instead of having the regular card party, have a tea-dance at Regado's. The party will begin on Wednesday at 8:30 and last until 6. It will be followed by balloons, toys and other favors. At this time the members will receive dolls for dressing. These dolls will later be auctioned and the money given to organizations doing educational work.

The second dance of the week will be the annual masquerade ball for the young members. This event will take place at the D. A. R. chapter house on Saturday afternoon, December 19, at 8:30. The dances will be limited to members only.

Englishman the Feature of American Musical Season.

Fifty tickets have been placed on sale at the Cable Piano company to the concert of Cyril Scott, famous English composer-pianist, who will appear at the Capital City club on Friday afternoon, December 17. This additional seating has been arranged by the Atlanta Music Study club to accommodate applicants who fail to obtain season reservations to the Series Intime, and when these fifty tickets are exhausted it will be impossible to secure further admission to the hall. Reservations can be made at the booth, where tickets are being sold to the concert of the Ruth St. Denis dancers.

This is the first southern appearance of Mr. Scott, who comes with a brilliant record. His first American concert in the east during the past months have been received with great enthusiasm, and he has been the center of much curiosity, as well as appreciation. He is quite the feature of America's musical season, and Atlanta music lovers count themselves very fortunate in being able to hear the distinguished pianist so soon after his first American appearance. He will give a program devoted entirely to his own compositions, which will add to the already great interest of the concert.

For College Set.

There will be a special dance on Monday evening, December 13, given for the members of the Argentine, Castilian and Paradox clubs. The Garber-Davis orchestra will play.

For Miss Stoney.

Miss Josephine Stoney, a December bride-elect, was honor guest at an informal bridge party given at her apartments in the Georgian Terrace.

The rooms were decorated with silver baskets and vases of red roses and narcissi and growing plants.

To Miss Ingram.

A happy occasion yesterday was the afternoon tea given by Mrs. Norwood Mitchell at her home in compliment to Miss Alene Ingram, a lovely bride-elect, whose wedding to Captain W. E. Chambers will be an interesting event of today.

Miss Ingram, who is a member of the out-of-town guests for the wedding, Polaire plants and chrysanthemums decorated the house, and the tea table was one of artistic appointments. Its decoration in the center consisted of a silver vase of red roses, and red candles unshaded burned in silver candlesticks.

Miss Mitchell was becomingly gowned in black lace combined with white. The bride-elect wore a pointed chiffon in brown with a black Chantilly lace hat. Miss Ingram was gowned in black satin, and Miss Elizabeth Ingram wore blue georgette embroidered in dark braids.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. Drury Powers will entertain one hundred of the unmarried set at afternoon tea on Monday, the 13th, at her home on Peachtree circle, for her daughters, Misses Marie and Maud Powers, and for two attractive visitors, Miss Goodwin Denny, of Rome, the guest of Miss Lucy Candler, and Miss Lillie de Baker, of Baltimore, the guest of Mrs. Frank Burr.

Today's Calendar.

The Cox college dramatic club will present "How Nellie Made Good" this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Miss Mildred Summerlin will give a luncheon at her apartments in the Colonades for Miss Laura Rose, a bride-elect.

"The Messiah" will be given this evening at 8:15 o'clock by the Agnes Scott Choral society in the college chapel.

A dinner-dance will be given at the Piedmont Driving club.

The marriage of Miss Martha Alene Ingram and Captain William Earl Chambers, U. S. A., will be an interesting event, taking place in the afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis Ingram, on Columbia avenue.

Judge and Mrs. Frank Harwell will present a reception at their home on Claremont avenue, Decatur, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. George Caldwell Spier will be hostess at a beautiful children's party.

Dance at the Atlanta Athletic club this evening, following the basketball game.

Mrs. George Harrington and Miss Elizabeth Martin will entertain at a studio tea at "The Little Paint Shop" on River road, for Miss Nellie Choate, a bride-elect of December 14, and her bride party, and for Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Plummer, of Chicago, and Mrs. J. H. Barr, of New York, who are among the out-of-town guests for the Choate-Plummer wedding.

For Miss Cooper.

Miss Louise Cooper will arrive from Virginia, where she has been attending school, and will have as her guests, Miss Ida Britton, of Norfolk, Va., who is her roommate at Westhampton college. Miss John M. Cooper will give a tea Thursday afternoon, December 23.

Honoring Miss Lane.

Miss Mary Lane of Macon, who is visiting Miss Ida Britton, is attending school, and will have as her guests, Miss Ida Britton, of Norfolk, Va., who is her roommate at Westhampton college. Miss John M. Cooper will give a tea Thursday afternoon, December 23.

The prize for top score was a satin boudoir pillow and French novelties were awarded for consolation and guest prizes.

Miss Britain and Miss Lane wore attractive afternoon gowns of georgette crepe and velvet.

Mrs. Newman, Hostess.

Mrs. R. N. Newman was hostess Thursday afternoon at a bridge-tee complementing her sister, Miss Laura Rose, a bride-elect.

Pink roses, placed in silver baskets and vases, adorned the reception rooms.

The prizes were a handsome box of stationery and monogrammed playing cards.

Following the game tea was served from a beautiful decorated tea table, which was lace covered and adorned with a silver basket of pink roses and valley lilies. At either end were silver candlesticks holding pink burning tapers.

Mrs. Newman received her guests wearing an afternoon gown of black satin. Miss Rose was gowned in a smart model of dark blue satin embroidered in a lighter shade of blue.

Honoring Miss Rose.

Miss Laura Rose, a bride-elect of December, was honor guest at a bridge-tee yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. William Rose, Jr., at the Atlanta Woman's club. Following the bridge game tea was served from an exquisitely appointed table.

Miss Rose wore a gown of black velvet, with picture hat of velvet trimmed with ostrich.

Community Xmas Program Plans Announced Friday

An outline of the community Christmas program for Atlanta children is being announced by the community service department of the chamber of commerce was announced Friday. The program consists of three days of special features for children of all ages. All the exercises will be held in the auditorium.

On Sunday, December 13, it is planned that the school children present a Christmas tree to the people of the city. Decorations for the auditorium that day will be with festoons made by first, second and third grade children of the public school system. Pennies will be asked from all children above the fourth grade, to be given to some well-known charitable institution.

On Christmas day carols will be sung by the children under the direction of Miss Kate Harlan and Miss Grace Townsend. Following the carols a pantomime, directed by Mrs. Earl Jackson, will be presented, and then another donation of pennies will be asked. Exercises will also be arranged for Sunday, December 26. All the events will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Following is the program committee: Mrs. W. P. Davis, Miss Mamie L. Pitts, Miss Fannie Spahr, Miss Jo Brennan and Summers Carroll.

East Fifth street. The club was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. G. Spier. At the request of Major Edwards, commandant of Emory university, R. O. T. C., the club voted to purchase a flag of a special design, the seal of the university or a background of old gold and blue, and pressing it to the R. O. T. C. of the university.

The following was the program of the afternoon: Christmas Spirit, "The Yuletide," "The Yuletide," Christmas story, Mrs. W. F. Melton; Christmas poem, Mrs. Plato Durham; Christmas wishes, Madames M. T. Reef, E. C. Guy, J. F. Messiah, Ambrosia and cake and tea were served by Madames W. F. Melton, M. T. Reef, A. M. Magee, Douglas Rumble and C. F. Hamf, who were the hostesses of the afternoon.

Mrs. Manley, Chairman.

The regular monthly meeting of the business women's committee of the First Presbyterian church, will take place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the chairman, Mrs. W. H. Manley, 65 East Fourteenth street.

A full meeting is urged. All new members and committee will be most cordially welcome.

19 EGGS A DAY FROM 23 HENS, IN WINTER

Mr. Duni's Hens Increased Every Day—Plan is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung we got 4 to 5 eggs a day in three weeks we were getting 10 to 12 a day; in five weeks we got 16 eggs a day."—John Duni, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Duni started giving Don Sung in January, in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in winter when his hens usually loaf. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.—(adv.)

For Miss Stoney.

Miss Margaret Downman will entertain at a large tea on Friday, December 17, at her home on Cypress street, in compliment to Miss Josephine Stoney, a bride-elect, and Mrs. Byron Patton, a recent bride.

Beautiful Luncheon For Mrs. O'Neill.

Mrs. Bolling Jones was the graceful hostess at a beautiful luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club yesterday at 2 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Francis O'Neill, of Charleston, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Adger Smythe, when thirty-three ladies were guests of the occasion.

The new dining room of the three on the left of the new assembly room of the club, was used for the first time and was a charming setting in its wall decorations and hangings of French gray, for the table decorations.

Here the first note of the yuletide was introduced in the floral decorations of narcissi and red carnations, with the place cards ornate in Christmas design, and the detail decorations reflecting the red color.

The table centerpiece was a mound of fern, from the top of which arose the spray of a miniature bouquet of narcissi, carnations and fern, and between these were candlesticks holding red tapers. These decorated with sprays of holly and the berries.

The were potted ferns elsewhere in the room, and every detail of the entertainment was finished artistically.

Mrs. Manley, Chairman.

The regular monthly meeting of the business women's committee of the First Presbyterian church, will take place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the chairman, Mrs. W. H. Manley, 65 East Fourteenth street.

A full meeting is urged. All new members and committee will be most cordially welcome.

For Miss Stoney.

Miss Margaret Downman will entertain at a large tea on Friday, December 17, at her home on Cypress street, in compliment to Miss Josephine Stoney, a bride-elect, and Mrs. Byron Patton, a recent bride.

Beautiful Luncheon For Mrs. O'Neill.

Mrs. Bolling Jones was the graceful hostess at a beautiful luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club yesterday at 2 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Francis O'Neill, of Charleston, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Adger Smythe, when thirty-three ladies were guests of the occasion.

The new dining room of the three on the left of the new assembly room of the club, was used for the first time and was a charming setting in its wall decorations and hangings of French gray, for the table decorations.

Here the first note of the yuletide was introduced in the floral decorations of narcissi and red carnations, with the place cards ornate in Christmas design, and the detail decorations reflecting the red color.

The table centerpiece was a mound of fern, from the top of which arose the spray of a miniature bouquet of narcissi, carnations and fern, and between these were candlesticks holding red tapers. These decorated with sprays of holly and the berries.

The were potted ferns elsewhere in the room, and every detail of the entertainment was finished artistically.

His Friend and His Wife

By COSMO HAMILTON.

Headed by the conscience-stricken Nina, they all went as to allow you a few feet from the great round flower bed in the center of the drive stood the dumpy figure in the comic frock, the moonlight on her all too golden head, and a crumple of paper lying at her feet.

Upon this Eric pounced as Nina and Elsa Mahan seized Mrs. Hicks by the arms. There was no sign of "Bob." The look of triumph faded from the woman's face. "What's all this?" she blurted out.

"Take her along to the tennis courts," said Frankie. "You have heard or see us there. Eric, find Bob, quick. Don't come back without him." The boy charged back to the house.

"Me go, or I'll scream the sky down," cried Mrs. Hicks. But the two girls had her in a man's grip and ran back to the tennis courts, where they forced her to stand still behind a screen of bushes.

Frankie, Margaret, Daisy and Mary Miller, with Gilbert on their heels, followed instantly and surrounded the woman, whose unpleasant face was white with rage and fear. It was an extraordinary scene in that highly civilized place.

Every one of those people had been primeval under the stress of emotion, and for all their modern cloth, a flung back to an age when skins were the only wear and passions had not been checked.

"Did you show this paper to Bob Meredith?" demanded Frankie. "Answer that question, or I'll have you arrested!"

"Did you? Did you?" The chorus was an angry one, and threatening. "For God's sake, tell us," cried Margaret, with her hands stretched out.

"If you don't let me go I'll have the law on you." "Answer that question, or I'll have you arrested!"

"Nina burst into a scolding laugh and yanked the arm she held. Gilbert went one pace nearer.

"Answer that question, or I'll have the law on you." "Nina burst into a scolding laugh and yanked the arm she held. Gilbert went one pace nearer.

There was a moment's silence, broken by the soughing of leaves and the rustling of the dress. "Very well then, I did. And I had the right, I wasn't going to let that man make a fool of by a guilty woman and her friends."

"What about it? It's a free country." Gilbert caught Margaret as her knees gave way and her little cry rose up to the pitting angels. "They all went as to allow you to continue to poison the air of this place," said Frankie. "You have delivered yourself to last into our hands. Those papers and the story of how you got them shall be given to me. You shall be placed under boycott and treated like a pariah. I'll get her, my friends, and may she find it in her soul to be sorry for this most dastardly of her tricks."

The two girls drew back, the circle was opened up and without another word that past mistress in the gruesome art of destroying the happiness of a community walked unevenly away.

It was Daisy who went to Margaret and kissed her hand. "Hold tight. She too felt as though she had been wrecked in mid-ocean and was hanging to a spar. In Margaret's mind there was only the sight of a quiet pool beneath the arms of trees."

And then Eric came up and every one hung upon his words. "Bob's nowhere to be found," he said quietly. "No one's seen him at all. But I've brought Julian with me. I thought he ought to be here and be told what's happened."

And Julian, the handsome Julian, who had honestly done his best to unspool himself and play the game, but whose false step had printed an indelible mark upon the lives of all the people who faced him, passed on. Into that strange emotional group, there under that placid impersonal moonlight, he brought a new element.

Frankie put her hand on his arm. "Go and find Bob," she said. "You are the only one who can find him."

"Bob? Why? What's happened?" Frankie pointed to the two women who stood before her. "Need you ask?" she said.

He had seen Mrs. Hicks going to the place where the car was parked. He had seen the look in Eric's eyes as the boy beckoned him off to the house of the hall.

He had seen Daisy holding Margaret against her heart. There was in very many eyes a look of waiting. He bent down and kissed his wife's hand.

Besides her father and mother she is survived by two brothers, E. J. and N. W. Page, both of this city.

HARDING TACKLES LEAGUE PROBLEM

President-Elect Discusses Plan for World Association With Hughes—Harvey Also Visits Harding.

Marion, Ohio, December 10.—In fulfillment of his campaign promise for a "meeting of minds" to determine a new American policy, President-elect Harding today began a month of conferences here by seeking the advice of Charles Evans Hughes, republican nominee for the presidency in 1916.

What passed during their talk of several hours was not revealed, for afterwards Mr. Harding maintained silence and Mr. Hughes would only say that international problems had been considered in relation to constantly changing conditions and with a view to solution along the lines laid down by the president-elect during the campaign.

Neither would comment on widely circulated reports that the conference had to do with cabinet appointments and other practical questions of administration building.

Mr. Hughes has been mentioned many times as a possible secretary of state and his arrival here at the head of "president-elect's list of chosen conferees" served to enliven speculation on his availability for the premier portfolio in the next cabinet.

Col. George Harvey appears. While the two were closeted together, Colonel George Harvey, the New York magazine editor, appeared on the scene for a visit with Mr. Harding.

WORK TO BEGIN SOON ON LAGRANGE HOTEL

LaGrange, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—Information has been given out by President C. R. Cul-laway, of the new hotel company, that contracts will be let and work begun shortly after the first of the year. This project, for which $343,000 has already been subscribed and $20,000 at purchase, has been delayed for some months on account of the high prices of material and labor. It is confidently felt that after the turn of the year materials and labor prices will have reached such a point that going forward with this much needed improvement in LaGrange will be justified.

It was said, might last for several days. It was the second time he had come here at an hour when questions affecting the country's international relations were awaiting solution. He spent two weeks at Harding's headquarters just prior to Mr. Harding's address of August 28, terming the Versailles league a failure and proposing formation of an association of nations.

Although as a democrat, he was one of Woodrow Wilson's leading supporters for the presidency in 1912, Colonel Harvey later withdrew his support from the administration and has been an irreconcilable opponent of the league. Mr. Hughes has been a reservationist, having proposed several reservations during the league fight in the senate.

With Colonel Harvey and Mr. Hughes, the president-elect motored to Columbus where they took luncheon with Harry M. Daugherty, the Harding pre-convention manager, and former Senator Theodore Burton, of Ohio.

Both off the president-elect's guests came here today en masse. Three days in advance of the date on which it previously had been said the conferences would begin. It was explained that Mr. Harding did not feel that he should make public in advance the names of those he is to see, nor the dates on which they have appointments.

Taft, Root and Hoover. Several of these names have been given to the public from other sources, however, and it is known that in the near future he expects to see among others William Howard Taft, Elihu Root and Herbert Hoover. Mr. Hoover probably will be here for a conference Sunday.

Mr. Hughes reached Marion before breakfast and spent the entire forenoon with the president-elect. Afterward he said it was impossible to review any details of the conference and Mr. Hughes issued this statement:

"We have been talking over the attitude, will address the conference

Important questions which are pressing for solution in connection with our foreign policies, questions which may be considered in the light of conditions which are constantly changing.

The solution will, of course, be found in harmony with Senator Harding's statements in the course of the campaign. It was most gratifying to have had this interview.

After his return to Marion tonight, Mr. Harding received a delegation from the Ohio Americanization conference in session at Columbus and attended a private dinner, at which he heard a Y. M. C. A. lecturer discuss conditions in the Far East. During the evening he talked over several political questions with Elmer Dover, who was Pacific coast manager for the republican national campaign during the campaign.

HOLD GOOD SESSIONS OF A. M. E. CONFERENCE

Wrightsville, Ga., December 10.—(Special.)—The Augusta A. M. E. conference, Bishop J. S. Flipper, in charge, is having busy and varied sessions day and night. The mission anniversary, presided over by Dr. H. D. County, of Atlanta, as a great success. Dr. W. G. Alexander, of Savannah, conducted the devotions. Rev. J. A. Hodley and John Harmon were the interested singers.

Principal Hattie Simmons, of the Johnson Industrial Institute, Plains, Ga., made a strong talk on the care and usefulness of negro boys and girls.

Dr. W. J. Flanders, Rev. G. R. C. Johnson, W. A. Brooks and J. M. Mason, white ministers and laymen of the city, visited the conference today, and Dr. Brooks spoke to the convention. Dr. W. G. Alexander represented the conference in reply.

Richard D. Stinson, head of the Atlanta Moral and Industrial Institute, will address the conference

NO EXTENSION OF TIME FOR PAYING U. S. TAXES

Washington, December 10.—Postponement of the payment of the December 15 installment of taxes is impossible, the senate was told today by members of its finance committee. Acting Chairman McCumber said some means must be found of raising $1,229,000,000 by January 1, in addition to the amount expected to come in from the month's tax payments.

Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, and Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, ranking democrat member of the finance committee, agreed that there would be no postponement and the former said the country ought to be so advised at once.

Senator Simmons suggested that some relief might be had by liquidation of the loans to the allies, but Senator McCumber said he understood those nations were not even able to pay interest charges much less "any of the principal."

"We do not even have their bonds," said Senator Simmons. "Merely have their I. O. U.'s," remarked Senator Smoot.

"That isn't the fact," said Senator Glass of Virginia, former treasury secretary. "We have their demand obligations."

"That is my understanding," declared Senator McCumber. "The holding we have are just as safe as the bonds of the governments concerned."

Saturday night on "Practical Education and the Relation of the Negro to the South Problem." The colored people came from all directions and the sessions are largely attended night and day.

WHEN YOU TREAT COLDS EXTERNALLY

Use Gowan's, the Original Penetrating Salve That Will Not Stain the Clothing.

Made With an Animal Fat Base That Goes Right in. Produces a Rubefacient Effect Without Irritation and Quickly Breaks Up the Congested Blood Vessels.

To get the best results in treating colds, spasmodic croup, or other inflammation of the air passages, externally, you must have a remedy that will penetrate. That is why so many physicians recommend a turpentine ointment applied over the throat. That is also why Gowan's is the physicians' ideal, because it does penetrate.

Gowan's, the original penetrating salve, almost a quarter of a century old, gets right to the inflamed membrane through penetration. It soothes and heals and opens up the air passages for free and easy breathing. It produces a rubefacient effect without irritating or blistering even the tenderest skin, which makes it especially fine for children and babies.

Gowan's gives relief beyond belief and will not stain the clothing. It has many daily uses in the home and should be kept on hand for emergencies, such as cuts, burns, bruises, insect bites, etc. 30c, 50c and $1.20 at your drugist and guaranteed to please or money refunded.—(adv.)

PEACE PRIZE GIVEN WOODROW WILSON

Accepting Nobel Award, President Says Mankind Is Not Yet Rid of Horror of War.

Christiania, Norway, December 10. The distribution of the Nobel prizes was made here this afternoon. The principal awards—the peace prizes for 1919 and 1920—were given, respectively, to Leon Bourgeois, of France, and Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States.

The peace prizes were presented in the Storting during the afternoon at a ceremony which was shorn of all ostentation. The literature and other prizes were delivered this evening in the Academy of the Muses in the presence of the royal family. The king and the members of his household did not attend the afternoon ceremonies. Large numbers of notables of the world's literature, art and science heads were present on both occasions.

President Buren, of the Storting, expressed the delight of the Storting and of the nation that President Wilson had been awarded one of the peace prizes. He characterized Mr. Wilson as the creator of the league of nations and thanked him for his efforts to promote international peace.

The document presenting the peace prize to President Wilson was received by Albert G. Schmedemann, the American minister to Norway, who read a message of thanks from President Wilson.

"In accepting the honor of your award," said the president's letter, "I am moved not only by a profound gratitude for the recognition of my earnest efforts in the cause of peace, but also by a very poignant humility before the vastness of the work still called for by this cause."

"May I not take this occasion to express my respect for the far-sighted wisdom of the founder in arranging for a continuing system of awards? If there were but one prize, or if this were to be the one prize, I could not, of course, accept it; for mankind has not yet been rid of the unspeakable horror of war. I am convinced that our generation has, despite its wounds, made notable progress. But it is our work as only begun. It will be a continuing labor. In the indefinite course of years before us there will be abundant opportunity for others to distinguish themselves in the crusade against hate and fear and war."

Wilson, indeed, a peculiar fitness in the grouping of these Nobel awards. The cause of peace and the cause of truth are of one family. Even as those who love science and devote their lives to physics or chemistry, even as those who would create new and higher ideals for mankind in literature, even so with those who love peace, there is no limit set. Whatever has been accomplished in the past is petty compared to the glory and promise of the future.

Wilson Third American Honored. New York, December 10.—Award of the Nobel peace prize today to President Wilson "as the person who had promoted most or best the fraternity of nations and the abolishment or diminution of standing armies, and the formation of peace congresses," marks the sixteenth bestowal of the gift of the Swedish inventor of dynamite, Alfred B. Nobel, whose name it bears. President Wilson is the third American to receive the peace prize, the others being Theodore Roosevelt and Elihu Root.

The prize, one-fifth of the annual purpose by Mr. Nobel, normally amounts to about $40,000, but is payable in Swedish kroners, which, at the present rate of exchange, represents about $29,150 in American gold. A kroner in the United States at present has a value of only 19 1/2 cents, as compared to its normal value of nearly 27 cents.

Recipients in countries where the kroner is above par, however, will receive much more than the amount stipulated.

No prizes were awarded for the years 1914, 1915, 1916 and 1917.

Helen Gardner, who lured Antony from his legs upon the banks of the Nile in the first star picture shown south, Louise DuPre, who is said to be Mary Pickford's double, and Mae Carson, leading lady with Charlie Chaplin, will feature the final day of the sixth and final day of the spectacular movie exposition. Eugene O'Brien and Martha Mansfield may return during today.

Saturday afternoon the officials of the exposition offer two $25 prizes for the best impersonations of male and female stars by children under fifteen years of age. The Savin Film, Inc., offers $20 for the best impersonation of Oh, Min, and Andy Gump, while similar prizes are offered by the First International for the best Charlie Chaplin, and by Pathe for the best Harold Lloyd.

Masquerade contests are open to all ages, sex and sizes. A silver loving cup donated by Eugene O'Brien will be first prize for the most unique and original costume. Cash prizes up to $25 will be awarded for the best impersonations and special prizes for impersonation of particular stars.

Miss Gardner will wear her famous gown of antique lace, which is insured for $2,500, and it is rumored unofficially that in this bewitching drapery she will hand out a few more of those "souvenir kisses" dispensed on Thursday evening. But in case of default, no rain checks will be given.

Puckett. He flatly denied the truth of the Paul Baker affair and charged that Mr. Striplin was "sore" at him because he had closed up a number of concessions which he was convinced were "skin games."

The grandstand trouble he laid to a charge by Mr. Striplin that he was drunk, asserting that he had been told by telling him it was a "lie." He admitted dislike for Mr. Striplin, but said he was not a "skin game" player. "I would be surprised if I do."

Detective Shaw proceeded on the stand by W. C. Puckett, who was the next witness following Mr. Striplin. He asserted that on the opening day of the 1918 fair he requested Lieutenant Shaw to detail a man to watch a particular place, suspecting its operator of crookedness. Detective Hamby was stationed to observe the operations. Puckett convinced that it was a flagrant gambling device and getting no report from the detective, this affair took affairs into his own hands, caught the operator in the act of "stealing" two country boys' told the concessionaire to clear out and kicked the booth into a nearby ditch.

At this juncture he stated Hamby appeared and stated that he had been carefully watching the place, but his observations had disclosed nothing of a crooked nature.

Charles Adams, officer, Mr. Puckett told the committee that he had evidence in affidavit form that Policemen C. E. Ford and D. H. Sewell had arrested coupled at night in remote sections of the grounds, and for a cash consideration had released them. This affidavit, he asserted, is signed by Charles Camp, electrician at the fair grounds, who was one of two men detailed by him to watch the pair of officers after their actions had aroused his suspicions. Mr. Lynch, the night watchman, was on duty at Lakewood of Ford and the men were not discharged from the force, however.

When Detective Shaw came on the stand he answered the testimony of Mr. Puckett with reference to the affidavit. He said he saw the paper and it was very evident that it was framed and dictated by Mr. Puckett himself.

The fourth and final witness of the Descriptive Detective G. M. Howell who denied in toto references made to him at the morning hearing by Clarence Hart, an admitted bootlegger.

Hart said he arranged to sell some whisky to "Grid" Freeman, the latter making an appointment to come the next night to Hart's home on West Peachtree street. Freeman arrived in his car, said Hart, and they were leaving it with the lounge when City Detectives Terry and Howell appeared on the scene. Hart declared that the detectives took Freeman and the whisky and drove away. Terry threatened to "kill him if he ever said anything about it," he stated.

Detective Terry was not present to go on the stand, but Attorney Aidine Chambers said "he was authorized to state for him that he denies all of the allegations of Hart."

The first witness to testify Friday morning before the committee was a woman, Miss Clara L. Trenor, a dressmaker. Miss Trenor testified that from February, 1914, to September, 1920, she conducted a dressmaking establishment at 32 1/2 Whitehall street, that a Dr. Hall had a dental office next to her; that gambling went on frequently in his office at night; that she watched it through a peep-hole in the wall, and that she finally decided to have the place raided.

Seeks Aid of Police.

She said she sought the help of Mrs. Hattie Barnett, a woman detective, who telephoned Detective Chief Lamar Pool about the place and the chief told her that the police had "pulled the place out" and they were sick of it. Saturday night, February 14, Miss Trenor said, she arranged with Policeman Buck, who was on the beat, to make the raid. The raid was made by Buck and several other officers, and the players taken to the police station.

ARMENIA BORDERS FIXED BY WILSON

President's Decision as to Boundaries Given to the French Foreign Office. Liberal Frontiers Given.

Paris, December 10.—President Wilson's decision concerning the Armenian boundaries was delivered to the French foreign office yesterday through the American embassy, with a note from Ambassador Wallace, reserving to himself a voice in the decision when it is made public. The French government immediately began sending copies of the decision to the other nations which are members of the allied supreme council.

President Wilson's decision consists of an extremely long note printed in book form on green paper. It is signed by President Wilson himself and is accompanied by a thick book of maps, constituting one of the most magnificent documents ever received by the foreign office, according to the officials there. The only impression given out by the foreign office was that President Wilson had allowed Armenia very liberal borders.

A Constantinople dispatch of Thursday reported that a peace treaty had been signed by Armenia and the Turkish nationalists under which Armenia's territory would be reduced to the region of Erivan and Lake Gokcha, Armenia losing Kars and Alexandropol.

Southern Railway Seeking U. S. Loan

Washington, December 10.—The Southern Railway company asked permission of the interstate commerce commission today to issue $5,000,000 of development and guarantee mortgage bonds at 4 per cent, payable April 1, 1926, to be pledged as security in part for a government loan of $3,525,000, to be expended for equipment.

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 10.—A strike of employees of the Mississippi state capitol was averted today when the bond improvement commission changed the interior decorations of the structure from yellow to a more pleasing color.

AMERICAN MISSIONS
SHABBILY HOUSED

Washington, December 10.—Curtailed expenditures for foreign affairs has brought about conditions in its establishments abroad, especially in consulates and missions, that in some cases are "disgraceful," says a memorandum sent to congress by the secretary of state.

"The American mission in Berlin," the memorandum says, "is housed in a building in such bad condition that water soaks through cracks in the walls, and in a hard rain-storm, walls have to be set back the rooms to catch the water."

"In Budapest, the American mission is situated in rooms which are disgraceful. The approach is through a courtyard and up two flights of steps, smelling outrageously, and always crowded with people coming on legitimate American business. There is so little space that these crowds have to be herded by Hungarian policemen."

INCREASE IN ARMY
DEFENDED BY BAKER

Washington, December 10.—Provisions of the army reorganization act fixing the peace time strength of the regular army at approximately 230,000 men are mandatory and leave "no discretion to anybody," Secretary Baker told the house military committee today, explaining his action in ordering recruitment up to that figure. The secretary had been asked by Chairman Kahn why the limit of 175,000 provided in the army appropriation bill had been exceeded.

Two-Story Brick House

Ponce de Leon Avenue Price $21,000
This is one of the most substantial houses on Ponce de Leon Avenue. It has nine rooms, two baths, servants' house, garage, vapor heat and a slate roof. It is surrounded by beautiful homes and is in a section of the city where it has been quite difficult to purchase a home. We recommend this property to anyone wanting a good house and extra good value for their money. It will be our pleasure to show this place by appointment.
